07:56:29 From Drew Garner : "About half have home internet for the first time"

07:57:37 From Drew Garner : I believe that initial ACP signups were mostly among households that already had internet because those are much easier to sign up. As those "low hanging fruit" have been signed up, we've moved on to less connected households.

08:12:06 From ERIN CARR-JORDAN : The overestimation by the providers and the correction of those data is the best way to get the state the $ it should

08:12:26 From Corey Christians : That is absolutely true Erin
